The Ward Meetings-Nomina- The Chronicles of the Solar Gas

Last evening, in accordance with the call of the township executive committee, the Democrats of the various wards of the city, with the exception of the 4th, held meetings to nominate candidates for aldermen for the municipal election on the first Monday in next month. More interest has been displayed in these meetings than ever before in the history of the city.

FIRST WARD met at Lovejoy's Academy. Mr. P. A. Wiley was called to the chair and Mr. - Jordan acted as secretary. It was soon ascertained that the room was too small to accommodate the large crowd assembled, and an adjournment was had to the Metropolitan Hall. After 13 ballots, the last one taking place at 1 A. M., 1 thest was chosen, composed of Messes. R. F. Jones, M. T. Leach and Len. H. Adams.

This meeting was held in the school house near the city cemetery. Mr. M. D. Haynes presided and Mr. Frank Stronach acted as secretary. A ballot resulted in the nomination of Messrs. G. T. Cook, W. E. Anderson and Mills H. Brown as the Democratic candidates for aldermen of the ward.

THIRD WARD met in the court house. Mr. D. Reid Upchurch presided and Mr. E. A. Jones acted as secretary. Messrs. P. F. Faison, J. C. S. Lumsden, John C. Blake, John S. Pescud and Phil. C. Walker were selected as the candidates for aldermen. FOURTH WARD.

In this ward there was no turnout. Only three or four persons assembled at the appointed place of meeting-the gas house office. This ward has an overwhelming negro majority, and we suppose the few white voters in it did not think it worth their while to come PIFTH WARD met at Hargett street school house and had a very large meeting. Mr. Marshall Betts presided and Mr. W. E. Pell. acted as secretary. Only one nomination was made, that of Mr. Peter Flemming. Pending the nomination of the other two aldermen, the meeting adjourned to meet this evening, at 8 o'clock, at Metropolitan Hall.

Messrs. Hardin & Grimes. The advertisement of this new firm of grocers, vecupying a column, appears in another part of to day's News. We ask a careful reading of the advertisement. Mr. Hardin is a young gentleman, a native of North Carolina, who has been absent from his State during much of the time since the war, engag. ed in business in New York, and has now returned to settle permanently. He has had large experience, and his judgment as well as his probity may be relied upon. He selected the present stock in person and will vouch for the purity and quality of all he sells. Mr. Grimes, the other member of the firm, is a resident of Pitt county, and is a gentleman quite well known in this city. Their stock is entirely fresh, and deserves an examination from house-keepers and others having groce

Scrambling Over the Spoils, Interesting news of political intrigues comes to us from the West. It is stated that Maj. Marcus Erwin is making a desperate war upon Virgil S. Lusk, United States District Attorney for the Western District of North Carolina, and that in this warfare he is backed up by nearly all the prominent Republican officials in that section of the State. It is said further, that ex-Judge George Washington Logan, of the Charlotte district, is waging war upon Robt. M. Douglass for the United States Marshalship of the Western District.

Died from the Effects of Its Burns.

It was noticed in the News of on day last week that Julia Ferrell, an eight year-old daughter of Mrs. Jas. E. Ferrel, who lives about 6 miles from the city, on Mine Creek, had been badly burned by her clothes catching fire while she stood in front of the fire. It is since learned that, after lingering in great pain for some time, an end was put to her sufferings a few days ago, death coming to her relief. Orphan Children.

In the beginning the wise men of the State met in the chief city of Raleigh and created a charter for the government of the city that all things might be well ordered therein. But darkness was on the face of the city and the spirit of evil moved about. And the people mourned because there was not light. But evil men who loved not light but darkness, and likewise those in whose grasp the eagle on the shekel had been heard to scream, wagged their heads and cried out taxes! taxes!! and there was no light.

And the murmurs of the people con

And the City Fathers, profanely called the Board of Aldermen, said let there be light, and there was light. And the City Fathers saw the light and called it good, and the name of the light was called Globe Light.

But the nocturnal way-farers couldn's see it in this light, so they call it "thin." And certain sons of Belial went to and fro and spoke in the chief places of the city, saying, away with it! away with it!! And the hearts of the City Fathers were stirred within them, and some of them went even unto Zebulon, whose surname is Vance, who in those days was governor of the province, and they spake unto him saying, what thinkest thon of it? And Zebulon, whose surname is

Vance, the governor of the province, answered saying, I pray thee give us a rest upon such matters, leastways until the office-seekers withdraw their feet from the gates of the city. And they departed and consulted with certain other wise men, and there arose much tumult in the city, and men were divided in their own minds and against their brethren. And the people mourned for gas, and bewailed themselves grievously because of the monopoly of that article by local politicians and seekers after place.

The Memorial Day Orator.

We are greatly pleased at the selection which the Ladies' Memorial Association have made of an orator for me morial day. It is eminently proper that the choice should have fallen upon Captain Octavius Coke, of Chowan, He was a devoted Confederate, and cherishes within him an undying love of the comrades who fell while doing battle beneath the Southern cross. A polished and impassioned orator, endowed with an element of the purest and loftiest eloquence, his address on memorial day, should he accept the invitation which has been extended him, will be remembered for years by those who hear it. We venture to say this much in advance, and do so without the slightest misgiving.

Meeting of the Board of County

Commissioners. The Board of County Commissioners met again yesterday for the transaction of its monthly business. All the members of the Board were present.

The tax levy for the current year was finally arranged as follows: Poll tax, $1.38; on the $100 valuation of property, 46 cents; on net income and profits, 1 per cent.; on the franchise of railroads, one-half of 1 per cent. The taxes levied under schedule B correspond in all particulars with those levied by the State under this schedule.

The claims of Messrs. Dunn and Bunting for half fees in the poll-tax cases were taken up, and after consideration the Board declined to audit and pay them.

It was ordered by the Board that, in conformity with the provisions of an act authorizing townships containing cities and towns of five thousand inhabitants to tax themselves for the support of Graded Schools, the question of levying in Raleigh township a tax for two years of one-tenth of one per cent. on the taxable property, credits, &c., and thirty cents on taxable polls therein, be submitted to the qualified voters. under the State election law, of said township, on Monday, the 7th day of May next. The Newbern Nut-Shell tells this good story: In our State Penitentiary, at Raleigh, it is customary, when a new con-vict enters for the officers to learn what business he has always followed, in order to give him work to which he is accustomed, and thereby make them more profitable. By this means the punish-ment of shoemakers, wheelwrights, har-ness-makers and other classes of mechanics have proved a source of revenue to the State. Some time since a colored man was "sent up," and the usual ques-tion was put to him: "What business have you always followed?" he being told at the same time that he was to do the work which he was used to. "Well, boss, you jes' struck me," said the darkey with a grin; "I am glad of that. I've always been a bar-tender an' I loves dearly to do dat work."

VIRGINIA too has an agricultural department, just established. It differs somewhat from our department. It is under the entire control of the Governnor; is supported by a direct annual appropriation; and embraces the mining and manufacturing interests of Virginia within the scope of its operations. We print the entire bill, elsewhere, this morning, mainly for the information of our agricultural readers.

Col. A. K. McClure telegraphs the Philadelphia Times as follows: The roll of the next House, as likely to be made up by Chief Clerk Adams, who will closely follow McPherson's ruling in like cases, will contain about 150 Democrats and 138 Republicans, and it is expected that the Democrats will increase their majority to 21 on contests in Florida, Louisiana, California, Massachusetts and Missouri. The hesitating policy of the President on the Southern question has settled the next House as Democratic.

MR. KENNETH RAYNER, in a letter to us, not intended for publication, says, in alluding to a remark of ours in a late issue, that he was not born in 1808, as suggested by his friend Wheeler in his History of North Carclina, but a long time after that; that as to the rumored connection of his name, together with that of many others, with the commission to go to Louisiana, it was entirely without any agency or knowledge on his part, and that, in his opinion, any one who would seek or covet such a position, or allow his friends to seek it for him, would thereby prove himself utterly unfit for such responsible duty.

In speaking of the election which took place in Michigan, Monday, the New York World says:

Though the Democrats of Michigan have not carried the State since by a narrow majority twenty-five years ago they gave its vote to Pierce, they have never lost heart, and since their splendid fight of 1874, when they cut down Grant's majority of 55,043 to 2,032, they have been gaining and retaining strength, till last November they cast 4,000 more votes than the Republicans had at any previous election been able to bring into the field. We may, therefore, expect to see them make a gallant fight and though they have a majority of 25,000 to overcome at an election where not all the voters will be likely to be brought out, we can trust that their appeal to the sense and honor of the people of Michigan against the perjured judgments passed at New Orleans and Washington by Republican Returning Boards and partisan commissions will not be fruitless of result.

THE TRIUMPH OF LAW. The action of the President and his cabinet on Saturday, says the Philadelphia Times. on the South Carolina issue, may be accepted as defining the policy of the administration on the whole Southern question. There is just as much law and reason for maintaining a military garrison of Federal troops in the South Carolina capitol to-day as there has been at any time. If it ever was warranted it is warranted now, for there is just the same condition of society there in April that there was in January, and the same dispute for the possession of the State House. The decision of Fresident Hayes is, therefore, not the result of any change in the status of parties in Columbia. All that is known now as to the merits of the rival claimants for the Gubernatorial chair was known when the troops were ordered there, and if Chamberlain was entitled to the protection of the army on the day of his pretended inauguration, he is as much entitled to have the bayonets maintain the usurping government that they assumed to establish. The order for the withdrawal of the troops from the capitol of South Carolina is an avowed return of the national authority to obedience to the Constitution and the laws, and it is the arst step toward the just subordination of the military to the civil authority and the recognition of the sovereignty of the States in the regulation of their own domestic affairs. It is not merely the disenthralment of South Carolina; it is a new departure that ends, for all the days and years of peace in the future, the employment of the army to control political results.

Accepting this action of President Hayes as an earnest of his settled purpose to inaugurate the supremacy of popular government in every section of the Union, the country will hail it as the harbinger of peace and prosperity. He has been accused of tardiness, and in that this journal has been among his accusers. And we see no reason to change the conviction so often expressed in these columns, that it would have been best had the troops been withdrawn from Louisiana and South Carolina at first the meeting of the new cabinet, or even before the cabinet was ready to meet: but believing now that the President has adhered to his own predetermined plan, and has not yielded or halted at any stage in the execution of his purpose, we hold that he is fairly entitled to the support of the whole country until he shall have honestly failed or entirely succeeded in accomplishing the great end desired by every dispassionate, pa triotic citizen. If he believes, after the careful consideration he has given to the whole subject, that the governments ordained by the people of Louisiana and South Carolina can be most speedily and securely established by the means he has decided to employ, and he is faithful to his purpose against all the disappointments of professed friends and the malignity of foes, his hands should be strengthened and the omnipotence of just public sentiment should be felt alike by the President and those who would thwart him in his struggle

The South Carolina dispute is practically settled, and the withdrawal of General Ruger's troops from the support of Chamberlain defines the law of the administration for General Augur's troops now employed to protect Packard. Had the South Carolina question not been embarrassed by the more delicate and tangled problem of Louisiana, President Hayes would have settled in two weeks ago; but what has been generally interpreted as hesitation and timidity, as drifting from post to pillar before opposing surges of political pressure, proves to have been the patient development and steady prosecution of a policy that, whether wisest or not, can not now fail to reach its grand consummation. It will bring peace-so much is now clear to all, and the only question that the administration has consid ered is the political expediency of haste or leisure in the work. Doubtless the chief aim of the President has been to accomplish the restoration of civil authority in the disturbed States, with as little friction as possible in the Republican party. He would have his own political organization disarmed of plausible complaint for his vindication of the long violated laws, and as he must offend only in the house of his friends to whatever he must extend at all, he has wisely sought to conciliate political as well as sectional prejudices in his gradual advancement toward the final and permanent inauguration of popular government, where anarchy has long wielded its desolating sceptre. This week will witness the restoration of South Carolina to her own sovereignty, and from thence will be dated her advancement in prosperity and greatness. Before another moon shall fill her horns Louisiana will be rescued from the bayonet and the spoiler, and the whole Union will present no commonwealth

the usurper. Then there will be peace. GOVERNOR VANCE'S LETTER.

that is withered by the tread of the adventurer or manacled by the hand of

We append below the text of a recent letter of Gov. Vance to the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle und Constitutionalist, which was written in response to a request by the editors of that paper that he give them his views as to the position Southern Democrats should occupy toward the present administration. As is usual with Gov. Vance the letter is couched in vigorous and terse language; it goes to the gist of the subject matt. r without circumlocution and is expressive of the sentiments of the Democratic party of this State. While brief the letter is in every way comprehensive and requires no word of comment to exemplify its salient points. The letter reads:

RALEIGH, March 27, 1877. Editors Chronicle and Constitutionalist: DEAR SIRS .- Your letter has been received, asking my views as to the position the Southern Democracy sl occupy towards Mr. Hayes, and whether should apply for or hold office under his administration, etc. Briefly and simply, then: In everything, except the mere forms of law, I regard Mr. Haves as a usurper. By maintaining armed intervention in States recently declared by the commission, under which he claims to be so sovereign, that no act of theirs could be impeached or even inquired into though tainted by a fraud that would have voided any other human transaction, in any court in christendom, he is flagrantly defying the Constitution of his country. Every day that United States croops are kept in and about the State Houses of South Carolina and Louisiana by Mr. Hayes' order, he is guilty of crucifying the Constitution afresh and putting it to open shame. And all men who hold office under him of political significance, are holding his garments whilst Liberty is bayonetted to death. The plea of uniting with evil-doers for the purpose of controlling them is as contemptible as it is stale. It lost its efficacy in the service of renegade native Southerners, who joined the Radicals in time to participate in the reconstruc-ion era of plunder. The duty of the Southern Democrats, as well as of the Northern Democrats, and of Democrats and friends of constitutional liberty everywhere, is to wage open war against Mr. Hayes and all other men who disregard the plain provisions of that great charter of the rights of the States and of the people Especially is it the duty of the Democracy to see that not another dollar is voted to the support of the army until guarantees are given that it shall no onger be used to destroy the States, and shear them of their just powers. I see no objection to Democrats filling subordinate positions to which no signi ficance is attached, except in so far as the sense of obligation to the appointing power may weaken the blows which an honest man should always be ready to strike the enemies of his country's honor and welfare.

Yours respectfully,

Z. B. VANCE.

BALTIMORE FERTILIZERS. We learn that in some communities the agents of some fertilizer companies, said to be of Baltimore, have advanced the price for their articles $1 per ton. The manufacturers seek by this action to render odious the Agricultural Department. It is an oppression and little less than a swindle. The tax is only $500 for the whole State. The manufacturer, by charging an additional $1 per ton, will not only get back the $500, but thousands of dollars besides. Our farmers should not submit to it. Other manufacturers of the best articles have taken no such action. Considering that no additional city or county or township tax can be imposed, $500 is only a moderate amount, especially when the money is to be used solely for the benefit of agricultural interests.

There is another view to be taken of this extraordinary action The Board of Agriculture are to use this money largely to analyze manures and suppress frauds. Are the manufacturers afraid to have their wares analyzed? Is anybody afraid of submitting to an honest incestigation? We do not charge it, but we must say it looks suspicious for wealthy companies, selling thousands of tons annually to be trying, by raising prices, and going into the courts, to get rid of a $500 tax, which is for license to sell throughout the length and breadth of a State with 1,200,000 inhabitants, most of them farmers. As for the legality of the tax there can be no reasonable question. The constitution gives power to levy "license" and "privilege" taxes. There s no distinction in the act in favor of home companies. There is no difference in law between this license tax and hundreds of others imposed by this State. If this be illegal then all other license taxes are illegal.

We hope the manufacturers, after having had a "breathing spell," will see their own interest, which is to conform to the act, make an honest article, affix to their bags a truthful analysis, pay the tax, and trust for their profits to the increased demand which will inevitably result when the farmers are taught what fertilizing elements their crops need, and what is a fair price to pay for those elements.

HAMPTON'S OFFICES.

A correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune gives the following description of Governor Hampton's offices in South Carolina:

Leaving the State House and strolling down the broad, sunny, lonesome main street, I was directed to the sec ond floor of a small two-story brick building for the offices of the Hampton Government. On the lower floor was a bank. Mounting a narrow wooden staircase I came to a landing on which two doors fronted. A printed sign of white card-board nailed on the panels of one read, "Lieutenant-Governor, Controller-General, Attorney-General;" and on the other a like inexpensive tablet had this inscription, at once instructive and hospitable to all who might be seeking the head of the State, "Governor-Walk in." This door led into a sort of ante-room, furnished with a few fifty-cent chairs and a rude table on which stood a bucket of water and a tin dipper. Beyond was a smaller room with a table at which a clerk was writing, a store counter, supporting a case of pigeon holes, and a dilapidated plushlined sofa, suggestive of a boardinghouse auction. Still further on was a smaller room, scarce six by nine in size, where the Governor works. An un-painted p ne table, a desk made by penitentiary convicts, and four or five chairs, were its outfit. Walls and floor in all these rooms were bare, and they looked like the quarters of some poor country lawyer waiting for practice. The whole stock of furniture would not fetch $25 at auction. In the adjoining office, occupied jointly by the three officials whose titles were on the sign, a like Spartan simplicity reigned. To save money until e should be fully established. Gov. Hampton has only commissioned such of the officials as he cannot get along without, and he is running the Government with the utmost economy. The Controller-General, Mr. Hagood, told me that the whole State Government only employs one clerk, who served the the different volunteers by tun. "We en we get behind with our books we go out and recruit some officers to help is," he added. A gentleman who was writing at the state of the ing at a table on the other side of the room said that he had been drafted into service to fix up the returns of the insurance companies, "Here," said Mr. Hagood, pointing to the pigeon-holes of the cheap desk at which he sat, "is the whole Controller-General's office. show that the business of the office was actually carried on by him, and not by his rival in the three luxuriously furnished rooms in the State-House, he showed me his accounts of money received and paid out, including the receipts of the superintendents of the State charitable and penal institutions.

And as David broke down in his anthem of praise, and called upon the stars, mountains, and seas to play the accompaniment, so I break down in the glories of this Easter morning, and call upon the organist to play the accom-paniment. ### A NOBLE LIFE.

What is a noble life? Io! some men schem To gather Wealth till life is but a dream Of riches: Midas-like their touch behold Transmuting ever grosser things to gold! Their clutch grows closer as their hoards in crease,

And only with their breath their labors cease
They die! Their fellow men some splendie From these vast treasures hope, but hope in Their n emories shall be compassed in this They lived, waxed rich, but died and made no sign!

What is a noble life? Lo! some men toll To conquer Fame in many a battle-broil; Shed blood, waste treasure, deal in wounds and death;
Build sudden empires, scattered with a breath; Or hix a despot firmer on his throne; Or hurl one thence and mount it as their own; Or fire men's hearts with cries of specious sound.

THE AGRICULTURAL BILL. A New Department of the State

Government to be Organzied. [Richmond Dispatch.] The bill to "establish a department of agriculture, mining, and manufac-turing for the State," has been signed reads as follows: 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Virginia, That the Governor of this State is hereby authorized and required to establish a department of agriculture for the State by the Governor and is now a law, and of Virginia. 2. That said department shall be under the control and management of one officer, who shall be known as the commissioner of agriculture. He shall be appointed by the Governor by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Said commissioner shall be allowed one clerk, to be chosen by himself, to assist the commissioner in the discharge of the clerical duties of his office. office of said commissioner shall be at the Capitol of the State, and an office and furniture necessary for the transaction of the duties of his office shall be furnished him by the Executive of this

SALARY OF COMMISSIONER.

3. That the salary of said commis sioner shall be one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and the salary of his clerk shall be six hundred dollars per annum.

HIS DUTIES. 4. That the duties of said commissioner shall be: First. He shall prepare, under his own direction, a hand-book describing the geological formation of the various counties of this State, with information as to the general adaptation of the soi of said counties for the various products; and for the purpose of giving a general and careful estimate of the capacity and character of the soil of the counties of this State, to obtain a correct analysis of the same, he shall be furnished by the Executive of the State, from the State treasury, with a sum of not more than one thousand dollars, with which to purchase a sufficient chemical apparatus to use in connection with said office, for the purpose of analyzing the soils and minerals of this State, and guanos and fertilizers, as he may deem of importance. Information upon the above subjects, and others of interest to those who till the soil of this State, shall be given, in circular or pamphlet form, to the agricultural associations or clubs of the various counties in this State for distribution at such times as the commissioner may be pre-

ANALYSIS OF FERTILIZERS.

Second. Said commissioner shall have under his charge the analysis of fertilizers sold to be used for agricultural purposes in this State. A fair sample of every brand of fertilizers sold to be used in the State shall be first submitted to said commissioner. When he shall have thoroughly tested the same (which it shall be his duty to do), if he shall find the same of no practical value he shall summon before him the parties interested, and give them a full and sufficient opportunity of correcting any injustice which may have been done to them by mistake, accident, or otherwise. And if it shall still be found that the brand is of no practical value, the sale of the same for use in this State as a fertilizer shall be prohibited. Any person violating the provisions of this act by selling any fertilizer to be used in this State without first submitting a fair sample of the same to the said com missioner, under rules prescribed by him, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars for each offence. One half of such fine shall be paid to the informer and the other half into the treasury of the State: Provided, however, That agricultural lime, agricultural aalt, ground plaster, wood-ashes, and German potash shall not be subject to the provisions of this act: And provided, further, That no fees shall be charged by the commissioner for the analysis of fertilizers required under this act, but such analysis shall be free of charge.

DISEASES OF GRAINS,

Third. Said commissioner shall have under his special charge the diseases of the grains, fruits, and other crops of this State; and he shall, at various times, report upon any remedy for said diseases, or any useful information upon said subjects; and he shall employ, in any manner that he may deem fit, a chemist to assist him in his researches, and a geologist to assist him in prepar-ing a geological survey of each county of the State, and other business that he may deem of importance to advance the purpose for which this department is created.

MINING AND MANUFACTURING—CABINET. Fourth. The said commissioner shall have in charge the mining and manufacturing interests of the State, and shall collect such statistical and other information as may be deemed useful in regard to them, and may tend in any way to foster and encourage them. He shall especially establish in or convenient to his office in the city of Richmond a cabinet, in which it shall be his duty to deposit such specimens of rock, coal, ores, lead, metals, and other mineral substances, or useful matters discovered and examined, and of models of inventions, and other useful products of manufacture, as may be proper and $2500 A YEAR. AGENTS WANnecessary to form as complete a cabinet as may be in his power of the specimens of geology, mineralogy, manufacture. and other useful matters relating to the industrial pursuits of the State. Such specimens shall be labelled and arranged in proper order for public inspection, and the names of the counties from which they were collected, or the places where manufactured, to be designated. He shall also keep in his office, or in said cabinet, conveniently arranged and open to the inspection of the public, all maps, surveys, information, and statis-tics gathered by him in the discharge of his duties under this act.

HORTICULTURAL.

Fifth. Said commissioner shall examine into any question that may be of interest to the horticulturists and fruit-growers of this State, and in all endeavors that he may deem proper toward encouraging these important industries.

THE DAIRY. Sixth. Said commissioner shall report, as in hereinbefore set forth, upon any matter of interest in connection with the dairy that he may deem of interest to the people of this State.

SHEEP-RAISING. Seventh. Said commissioner shall report upon the culture of wool, the utility and profits of sheep-raising, and all other information upon this important subject. Said commissioner shall have under his especial charge the study of the various insects that are injurious to the crops, plants, and fruits of this State, their habits and propagation, and the proper mode for their destruction. He shall also give his attention to the subject ofirrigation, and what portion of the State can be most benefited thereby. He shall also give his attention to the subject of fencing.

DESTRUCTION OF SEEDS. Eighth. It shall be the duty of the commissioner to provide for the proper and careful distribution of any seeds that the Government of the United States may desire to introduce into Virginia, and shall make arrangements for the importation of seeds that he may deem of value to this State, and for the proper, careful, and judicious distribution of the same; also for the exchange of seeds with adjoining States or for-eign countries for seeds from this State; and their distribution in a proper manner shall be entirely under his supervision and control.

Ninth. Said commissioner may retter or suh deem of interest to the agriculture of this State.

5. That the commissioner shall be empowered to make necessary rules and regulations for the purpose of carrying out the designs and intentions of this

6. That for the purpose of practically carrying out the design for which this department of agriculture is instituted in this State an appropriation is hereby made for the support and maintenance of said department, and for the payment of employees that it will be necessary to employ to properly carry out the intentions of this act, five thousand dollars per annum. Said amount shall be especially appropriated from the treasury for said purpose, shall be counted as an annual expense of the State; and said amount shall be drawn from the State treasury, by the commissioner, under rules to be established for said commissioner by the Governor.

7. That the office of said commissioner shall continue for two years from date of his appointment, and he shall perform the duties of the same for said length of time, unless removed in the manner now prescribed by law for the removal of officers of the State govern-

8. That the commissioner appointed under this act shall before entering upon his duties execute a bond to the satisfaction of the Governor in the sum of ten thousand dollars for the faithful performance of the duties of his office. 9. All acts and parts of acts in con flict with his act are hereby repealed.

"Why don't you come to the front door if you want anything?" indignant-"That's what I was looking for,"
was the impudent reply.
"Didn't you see it on the other side of the house?" retorted the gentleman.

"How was I to know that was the front door? No silver door-plate, no bell, no telephone, no statuary, no servant to take your hat and cane. Tell your boss there is a gentleman out here who is waiting for his breakfast." When the gentleman got back with his shotgun, the tramp was not there

The Louisiana Commission---Not Official But the President's Friends--What They are Expected to Do-Hampton Detained at Washington--His Dispatch to Lieut. Governor Simpson.

WASHINGTON, April 3.-Hampton is still here. It may be safely said that Hampton has contracted no entangling alliances. He has so far promised nothing but equal justice to every citizen of South Carolina. It is not yet known when the commissioners, now here, will leave or whether they will be instructed. One account says the President handed one of them a sealed package to be opened when they convene in New Orleans. This morning's Republican has the fol-

"The general idea has obtained within a day or two past that the Secretary of and define the line of policy to be followed by the Louisiana Commission in their investigation of matters in that State. This, however, is not the case. The matter has been fully discussed by the President and commissioners, and the subject has been under consideration at every Cabinet meeting of late.

It should be understood that this commission goes to Louisiana not to take action in the premises, but simply to ascertain all the facts concerning the factions, and to receive and make any suggestions that may tend to bring about the peaceful solution so much desired. They are not even regarded as of the President, who will exert their influence towards facilitating some adjustment. They will start this evening for Louisiana. There have been no proceedings under the electoral bill to oust Haves from the Presidency, and it is most authoritatively stated that none will be instituted if the President adheres to his inaugural, and allows his administration to be controlled by the constitu-

In my opinion there does not now exist in that State such domestic violence as is contemplated by the constitution as the ground upon which the military power of the national government may be invoked for the defence of the State. There are, it is true, grave and serious disputes as to the rights of certain claimants to the chief executive office of the State, but these are to be settled by and determined, not by the Executive of the United States, but by such orderly and peaceable means as may be provided by the constitution and laws of the State. I feel B assured that no resort to violence is contemplated in any quarter, but that, on the contrary, the disputes in ques-tion are to be settled solely by such peaceful remedies as the constitution and the laws of the State provide. Under these circumstances, and in this confidence, I now deem it proper to take action in accordance with the principles announced, when I entered upon the duties of the Presidency.
